

BUSS ChemTech AG is a globally leading source of innovative process technologies in the chemical and aluminum industries, providing customized solutions for our clients. Our services encompass process development in our inhouse technical center, basic and detailed engineering packages, key equipment supply, turnkey plants, as well as start up and after sales services.

Interested to extend your technical knowledge and become a student at DHBW Lörrach?

We offer you the possibility to study International Business at DHBW Lörrach and complete the practical education in our company.

What can you expect from us

- Thorough practical education
- Practical work in all our departments
- Learning by doing
- Applying the theoretical knowledge directly at your daily work
- Meaningful tasks and job duties
- Answers to your questions
- Being able to see all relevant aspects in our company
- Flat hierarchy and direct communication

What we expect from you

- First education or practical experience in a technical field (e.g. mechanical or chemical engineering)
- Eager to learn
- Being a responsible and conscientious person
- Good skills in self-organization and self-motivation
- Knowledge in MS Office products
- German as a mother tongue and a good command in English (min. B2 level)

What is next

- Do you need more information?
- Do you have questions?
- Do you want to apply?

Visit our website: www.buss-ct.com

Call us: +41 61 825 63 46

Please send us your full application to: jobs@buss-ct.com